ASPEN, Colo.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Vinod (Vin) Gupta, Chairman of the World Education Foundation, attended the Clinton Foundation Briefing and Discussion Event in Aspen. The focus of the briefing was to demonstrate the accomplishments of the Clinton Foundation and CGI.

The William J. Clinton Foundation focuses on worldwide issues that demand urgent action, solutions, and measurable results -- global climate change, HIV/AIDS in the developing world, childhood obesity and economic opportunity in the United States, and economic development in Africa and Latin America.

After he left the White House, President Clinton wanted the Clinton Foundation to focus on the areas where he could make the most difference as a private citizen. The foundation has grown into a global 501(c)(3) nongovernmental organization with 1,100 staff and volunteers in more than 40 countries and with offices in New York City, Little Rock, Ark., Boston, Mass., and other cities around the world.

World Education Foundation, a private charitable foundation of Vinod Gupta Family, has been instrumental in setting up the Bill Clinton Science Center in the village of Rampur Maniharan, District Saharanpur, in India. The science center is an ultra modern location for village high school students. These village students have shown outstanding improvements in their grades after this science center was established. Many students now are being accepted in engineering and medical schools.

The foundation has also set up the Hillary Clinton School for mass media where village girls can learn basic skills of media such as writing, photography, speaking ability, computer graphics enabling them to get jobs in local newspapers, radio stations, rural TV stations and ad agencies.
