He built a very successful holding company, Infogroup that was sold for $680 million. The firm leverages its various business relationships and experiences for successful investing.

“We have helped many start-up businesses by investing in early stages. Besides investing, we are able to help the founders by providing contacts and real world practical business knowledge from over 35 years running a major corporation,” commented Gupta.

Everest Group LLC is able to take minority ownership in successful businesses, or buy them outright. With our connections in the financial industry, we can do large transactions.
